OUR SERVICES

Customized and Individualized to Meet Your Nutrition Consulting Needs

MORAL

The promise to deliver nutrition at scale cannot be met if it is not accompanied by investments in the capacities of people, organizations, and institutions to support emerging targets, programs, and agendas.

Customized Training: Training package that help nutrition workforce, and organizations develop their competency to meet market needs in the local, regional and globally competitive environment.

Nutrition Leadership Skills Development: Our leadership program produces a new type of Nutrition workforce that can carve out a future agenda for the complexities of nutrition that we must address. Because of the inter-disciplinary and multi-sector nature of nutrition leadership development is deemed necessary for high-level collaboration between stakeholders.

Integrated Inter-Sectoral Skills Development: We help organizations to re-think how capacities to advance nutrition can be developed to support policies, research, program planning, financing, and delivery of relevant services. We can help in developing workforce abilities to work as part of a multi-sectoral team; communication and advocacy skills to engage decision makers; and a set of technical skills to address future challenges for nutrition.

Monitoring and Evaluation: Including review the project documentation (Terms of reference, Logical Framework, etc.), identify appropriate M&E indicators; select relevant data and design tools; select appropriate methods and sources for data collection; propose possible platforms for the system. In addition, Develop the Monitoring and Evaluation System including M&E Plan and conduct a baseline assessment; Pilot the project M&E system and train the project staff on using it and finally develop Final Report.
